Hi Peter,
I'm not sure why you think that you have some stake in mtgox? I agree we had talked about this being a possibility but we were never able to reach a deal. As you recall you came down here and we decided that it didn't make sense to become partners. Just talking about a potential deal where you could get equity doesn't give you equity.
You didn't contribute anything at all to mtgox. I never even looked at any code you supposedly wrote for the site. So I'm really puzzled why you think that you have some sort of stake.
Hopefully you think more about this and you realize that it would be extremely dishonorable to pursue this.

Jed.
